

A Life Saved

Never give up. No matter how ill you are. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured some terrible cases, and it will cure you.

Mr. Thos. H. Cashe, Barroo Creek, Dripstone, New South Wales, writes:

"I feel it my duty to let suffering people know what a wonderful blood-purifying medicine is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. My illness began with sharp pains in the limbs, while I was handling wet wool. After a day or two I could not walk, and suffered terrible pains. My face turned nearly black, large red blotches came out all over my body, and then I became delirious. I was in two hospitals for some time, and everything was tried, but I grew weaker and weaker, and became convinced that nothing could be done for me. I had heard so much about Ayer's Sarsaparilla that I thought I would give it a trial as the last hope. After taking one bottle I thought I felt a little better. So I procured another bottle, and then another, and still another. I gradually improved, and in due time left my bed for the first time in six months. I am now in good health, and I say to every one that Ayer's Sarsaparilla saved my life."

NOTLEY'S PILIKIA

Iaukea Causes His Arrest—Some Others Too.

A bombshell exploded yesterday in the Home Rule camp when Charles Notley, the Home Rule candidate for Delegate to Congress, was placed under arrest on a warrant sworn to by W. F. Erving, secretary of the Democratic Committee, charging him with criminal libel, in permitting to be printed in the Kuokoa Home Ruler, the Home Rule organ, an article charging Curtis Iaukea, Democratic candidate for Delegate to Congress, with wrongdoing while Collector General of Customs for this port.

The arrest caused all manner of excitement in the Home Rule headquarters and about the streets. Mr. Notley was released on having his bail bond for $500 approved with Senator Kalauokalani as surety.

Mr. Kinney, the Democratic leader and counsel in general for the Democratic party, and Mr. Notley, met on the street shortly afterward and Mr. Kinney told Notley that unless there was a retraction of the article in the Home Ruler, of which Notley is editor, the charges would be pressed. A retraction would save him from prosecution.

Notley asked for time and he was at first given until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Later he asked for more time, and Mr. Kinney, not desiring to take any unfair advantage of him, gave Notley until 9 o'clock this morning to make the retraction.

Still another sensation broke out when it was known that Stephen Umauma, up to a day or two ago a staunch Democrat and one of the speakers who daily mounted the political rostrum at Bethel and King streets on behalf of Iaukea, Parker and any other Democrat on local or mainland tickets, had deserted to his old friends the Home Rulers. In the same issue of the Home Ruler paper that the article attacking Iaukea was printed, was an affidavit from Umauma in which he made an assault upon Democratic principles and his former political friends. Mr. Nakoookoo also came out with an affidavit against Iaukea and others and the result is that Mr. Kinney has also prepared warrants for their arrest. "In case Notley fails to retract the other two warrants will become operative today," said Mr. Kinney.

The warrant for the arrest of Notley read as follows:

THE WARRANT.

"Wm. F. Erving of Honolulu, being first duly sworn, says that one Charles Notley did at said Honolulu on the 5th day of November, A. D. 1904, commit the crime of publishing a libel by maliciously putting into circulation in said Honolulu, in a newspaper published and circulated in said Honolulu and known as the Kuokoa Home Ruler, a certain false and malicious writing and article in the words and figures as set forth in Exhibit 'A' here to attached and made a part hereof, which said writing and article directly tends to injure the fame, reputation and good name of another person, to wit, one Curtis P. Iaukea, and to bring him into disgrace, abhorrence, odium, hatred, contempt and ridicule, said publication and said libelous article being without authority or justification by law, and contrary to the provisions of Chapter 32 of the Penal Laws of 1897 of the Territory of Hawaii; said article meaning and charging that Curtis P. Iaukea corruptly appropriated to his own use opium of the value of $45,000 in his custody as Collector of Customs at the city of Honolulu of the Hawaiian Government, in the following words therein contained, to wit: 'He $45,000, ka waiwai io o ka opium i nalowale ma ka hale dute i ko Iaukea wa e noho ana aia thea?' and in other words and parts of said article.

"(Sdg.) WM. ERVING."

NOTLEY AND KINNEY.

When Notley accosted Kinney on the street he asked the latter to act as his counsel, both having had relations as attorney and client on many other occasions. Mr. Kinney said he could not take his case. He said bluntly that if the statements made in the paper against Iaukea were withdrawn all prosecution will be withdrawn.

"As it is, Iaukea's skirts must be cleaned of this blemish," said Mr. Kinney.

Notley claimed to have nothing to do with the articles and could not therefore withdraw them. Mr. Kinney replied that being editor of the paper in question, he was responsible for them.

Mr. Kinney stated to an Advertiser man last evening that nothing further would be done until this morning when Notley was to give his answer. Umauma was one of the original Hearst men at the Democratic convention which sent delegates to St. Louis pledged to the editor-candidate. Since then he has been a wheel-horse of Democracy, making speeches daily and was even on the Democratic ticket. His defection complicates matters. It is said by Democrats that he was bought by Notley, which assertion Notley firmly denies. It is said that Umauma has been in the employ of the Democrats to make speeches and do electioneering, being quite popular wherever he went.

A prominent member of the Democratic council said last night that the desertion of Umauma to the Home Rule is only one phase of a general defection. Native Democrats are deserting in shoals.

The basis of the article in the Home Ruler, upon which the Democrats are pressing their charges against Notley, is that Iaukea is charged with having made away with $45,000 worth of opium, entrusted to his care while he was Collector General of Customs for the port of Honolulu.

THE AFFIDAVITS.

The three affidavits in the Kuokoa Home Ruler which stirred up all the trouble for the Democrats are as follows:

UMAUMA'S AFFIDAVIT.

"I, the undersigned, do hereby proclaim before my countrymen from the 'rising sun' Kumukahi, to the 'setting sun' Lehua, I was a true Democrat in the days gone by, but today while writing this letter of explanation of secrets which I found in the Democratic party, and for the welfare of my people and without consideration of how much money the Democrats have given to me, I've gone back and am now standing with the Home Rule party, and have left the Democratic party, the party which has been a traitor to my people, and for the following reasons which I found in the Democratic party:

"1.—C. P. Iaukea, is the real Republican candidate, and not Kalaniana'ole.

"2.—The haoles, Democrats as well as Republicans, in Hawaii have met together and agreed to disfranchise the natives Hawaiians.

"3.—The business men are helping the Democratic party with money.

"Now, I call you my beloved countrymen, to stand and leave the Democratic and the Republican parties, and let us go back to the Home Rule party, the only party in which we could exist and could hold our rights to vote without interference.

"Therefore, ye the generations of 'I' the 'Mahi' and 'Palena' and all 'Pala-lauhala' (old people), come back all of us in one party that would 'ko-ko' (strengthen) us in one net for victory.

"Long live Delegate Kahili'aulani, the man that would save my people to everlasting heaven.

"I am yours truly,

"STEPHEN UMAUMA."

MAUNAELELE'S STATEMENT.

"The Democratic party held a mass meeting at Walhee schoolhouse, Maui, on the evening of the 21st, and from the speakers came false impressions calling Delegate Charles Kahili'aulani Notley worthless, ignorant, and mischievous, when he was Custom House Collector in Hilo.

"Therefore, before you, my fellow-citizens of 'na wai eha' who had attended that meeting of these treacherous Democrats, I stand and deny all false impressions that were said of Kahili'aulani our Delegate. These questions should be asked by all readers:

1.—Was Kahili'aulani arrested by a policeman or by other government officials on charge or charges made, and was he tried and found guilty by a Judge or Judges?

2.—Where, when, what results, what was it and who was it?

"On these questions, I deny all . . .

"Kahili'aulani's hands and heart have not done such filthy thing as Iaukea and Kivini (Desha) is charging him before the public . . .

"We have come now, readers, where we should put questions on this subject. There was a large quantity of opium tins in the Custom House, Honolulu, valued about $45,000. These were lost, and brick stones were placed instead; Iaukea was the Custom House Collector then. The questions are: Where was the opium? Was there a marvelous change in these stones? Do consider the answers to these questions."

(Sgd.) L. K. S. MAUNAELELE.

Honolulu, Nov. 1, 1904.

NAKOOKOO'S AFFIDAVIT.

The following statements were made to the undersigned by Frank Harvey (Palakiko Hawe), one of the Democratic leaders in Hawaii:

1.—The "haoles," Democrats and Republicans in Hawaii have agreed to disfranchise all Hawaiians who have the rights to vote.

2.—The business men (Republicans) in Hawaii have agreed that Iaukea is their Delegate, and not Prince Kalaniana'ole.

3.—All money men (Republicans) are helping the Democratic party by contributions.

The following statements were made by David Kalauokalani Jr.:

"Iaukea had said in his speeches that it was not the Democratic party that helping him with money for his traveling expenses, but others (Republicans)."

The undersigned is ready to prove the above statements as to their correctness.

J. K. NAKOOKOO.

A SURE CURE FOR COUGH.—The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—over thirty years' constant use without a failure. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

FUNERAL OF I. SHERWOOD

Escorted to Cemetery By Citizen soldiery.

With military honors the remains of the late Isaac Sherwood of the Territorial Auditor's staff, were laid away yesterday afternoon in Nuuanu Cemetery. It was a military funeral throughout, all the line officers of the First Regiment, National Guard of Hawaii, in which the deceased was a second lieutenant, were present in uniform, together with a battalion of the National Guard, C Company being the one to which Lieut. Sherwood had been attached.

The funeral services were conducted from the home of Mr. Solomon Mahelona, brother-in-law of the deceased, near the Kalihi Pumping Station. The casket was laden with beautiful floral offerings, and among the handsome set pieces were those from the Hawaiian Chapter, Order of Kamehameha, National Guard and the Fifth District Republican Committee. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Kauli of the Kalihi Chapel. A choir from the Kamehameha Girls' School sang several selections.

The remains were then carried to the hearse and the long procession took up its course to Nuuanu cemetery. The pall-bearers were Lieut. T. P. Cummins and Lieut.
